Angel Jibreel revealed the Reading, Allah swt taught him and the prophet sas received it as he heard it. He taught his companions the Holy Quran as he received it from Jibreel (As), urging them to recite it as it was revealed.

2. To fulfill the obligation (Fard) of learning the Tajweed.

Its Legal Status:

The science of Tajweed is Fard Kefaya but the practice of Tajweed is a must for everyone who reads Quran- even if one doesn't know the Tajweed rules from theoretical point of view.

Object:

- I. To obey the commands of Allah swt and to follow His prophet Mohammad sas.
- II. To learn the Phonetics and rules of Pronunciation and intonation of The Glorious Quran.

The proof that Tajweed is obligatory (fard) is from:

Quran:

1. Furqan: 32 "..... We have recited it with distinct recitation"

2. Muzzammil: 4 “.....and recite the Quran with measured recitation.”

Hadeeth:

1. Zaid ibn Thabit narrates his sas saying that “ Verily Allah Loves the Quran to be read as it was revealed.”
2. Prophet Muhammad (sas) said, "Best among you is one who learned to read the Qur'an and taught others." (Bukhari and Muslim)
3. He also mentioned, "The example of a believer who recites Qur'an is like that of a fruit whose smell is good and taste delicious." (Ahmad in Masnad)
4. In another tradition he said, "One who recites the Book of Allah (Qur'an) will be rewarded the equivalent of ten good deeds for each and every letter.. " (Tirmizi, Darumi)
5. He'also said,"Learn Qur'an and recite it. Indeed the example of a person who learns how to read the Qur'an, recites it, and acts upon it, is like that of a bag full of musk, the fragrance of which spreads in the entire house " (Tirmizi, Annisai, Ibn Maja)
6. And there is another saying of the Prophet (sas),"A believer who does not remember even a small portion of the Qur'an is just like a deserted home." (Tirmizi, Abu Daud, Ahmad)
